The Law in New Hampshire

As of May 2025, abortion for any reason is legal in New Hampshire up to 24 weeks of pregnancy. After 24 weeks, abortion is permitted only in cases where the pregnant person's life is at risk or in instances of fatal fetal anomalies.

New Hampshire law does not require parental consent for minors seeking an abortion, but it does mandate parental notification.

Scott Brown's Policy Stance – I support the NH law.

Respect for Legal Framework: I will uphold the current legal standards governing abortion in New Hampshire, recognizing the state's provisions that allow abortion up to 24 weeks and under specific circumstances thereafter.

Protection of Reproductive Rights: I will affirm the importance of reproductive autonomy and support the right of individuals to make informed decisions about their reproductive health in consultation with medical professionals.

Access to Comprehensive Healthcare: I will advocate for accessible, comprehensive reproductive healthcare services, ensuring that individuals have the necessary information and support to make decisions aligned with their health and well-being.

Support for Minors: Recognizing the unique considerations for minors, I support policies that provide them with appropriate guidance and support while respecting their legal rights under New Hampshire law.

My commitment is to maintain a balanced approach that respects individual rights, adheres to state laws, and ensures access to safe and legal reproductive healthcare services for all residents of New Hampshire.
